

Emotion In Motion

“Italian performer Massimilian Balduzzi and I performed our moment of recognition in this series. His strong presence on the stage made our collaboration lead on a perfect communication between us. His movements are passionate as they reveal emotions. I captured those emotions composing portraits of his jointed body language. Following a moment like a dance I did my own choreography playing a game of seduction between my portrayed and me. The motion series are provocative images that came out when photographer and subject interact flirting with each other arts.” Emotion In Motion was exhibited at Moment of Recognition show curated by Amy Arbus at the ICP International Center of Photography in NYC, January – March, 2011.
